Thank you for staying with us so far!

There is something important we need to reveal... In the previous phase, some faces were intentionally mislabelled (we told you it was AI-generated when it was actually a real photograph, or vice versa)...

In this final phase, we want you to tell us what you think is the correct category of each image. We will briefly present all the faces once more, followed by one question:

- Do you think the face corresponds to an AI-generated image or a real 'Photograph'? Indicate your degree of confidence and certainty by moving the slider closer to the edges.

Sometimes, it is hard to tell, but don't overthink it and go with your gut feeling. At the end, we will tell you if you were correct or wrong!

Press start once you are ready.
